Tradition Four

Each group should be autonomous except in matters affecting other groups or AA as a whole.

Tradition four is a constant reminder that any two or three alcoholics gathered for sobriety may call themselves an AA group, and as a group they may run their meeting any way they choose. Fortunately for me, I have never experienced any real violation of this tradition.

Most meetings I attend have regular readings such as portions of Chapter 3, Chapter 5, 12 Traditions, and a closing reading of either A Vision for You or the Promises, but one meeting in particular liked the idea of “keep it simple” so our secretary picked the leader and a page of Daily Reflections and the meeting commenced.

Several times over the two years I attended that meeting there would be someone who would make strong comments about our meeting not being run right, suggesting that other readings should be added to our format. Sometimes these new members to the group have insisted on a full group conscience to overturn the way our meeting was run. As expected one of two things occurred, they either joined our little hot bed of mental health or they found another meeting more to their liking.

Granted, I’m pleased to note that not every meeting I attend is that minimalist but I do attend meetings where “Spiritual Experience” is read instead of Chapter 5 and the Traditions. Some meetings around the country have bible passages read, personal stories read, or even passages from authors who have written books on or about spirituality.

I am truly grateful to Alcoholics Anonymous. I owe my life to AA and the groups are where I go to hear the message of AA. While I do prefer some groups or meetings over others, I am glad that any meeting can run its own affairs any way they want.

March Puzzle Solution

Traditions Checklist

Tradition Four: Each group should be autonomous except in matters affecting other groups or AA as a whole.

1. Do I insist that there are only a few right ways of doing things in AA?
2. Does my group always consider the welfare of the rest of AA? Of nearby groups? Of Loners in Alaska? Of Internationalists miles from port? Of a group in Rome or El Salvador?
3. Do I put down other members' behavior when it is different from mine, or do I learn from it?
4. Do I always bear in mind that, to those outsiders who know I am in AA, I may to some extent represent our entire beloved Fellowship?
5. Am I willing to help a newcomer go to any lengths—his lengths, not mine—to stay sober?
6. Do I share my knowledge of AA tools with other members who may not have heard of them?

"Humility is not my forte, and whenever I dwell for any length of time on my own shortcomings, they gradually begin to seem mild, harmless, rather engaging little things, not at all like the glaring defects in other people's characters."

When I got here, I treated God like He was someone that I owed Twenty Bucks to, and I was going to avoid Him until I got the money. My sponsor suggested that if I wanted to have a relationship with God, I needed to sit down and have a chat with Him from time to time.

Step Four

Made a searching and fearless moral inventory of ourselves.

This is where the work begins. Some, if not most, alcoholics are frightened by this step. We exclaim "What an order, I can't go through with it! I've done so many terrible things when I was drinking!" Do not be discouraged. I was blessed with a sponsor who suggested a searching and fearless method to work this step. He simply said "It's a moral inventory, not an immoral history." A moral inventory of ourselves is not comprised solely of our wrongs, or immoral history. Approaching the Fourth Step in this manner is a sure fire way to miss the important and necessary elements of working this step fearlessly and thoroughly.

Searching is defined as: To look into with thorough scrutiny and rigorous objective examination.

Fearless is defined as: Marked by freedom from fear and by resolution in braving dangers.

First, my sponsor had me write about the good, healthy, qualities and attributes of myself as they are today. All I have is today, and today I have not had a drink. Today, I have turned my will and my life over. Today, I am willing to change. Today, I am aware and present. By being aware of whom I am today: I now have the tools to work on a broken house, rather than a broken house and no tools. Thus, I was able to objectively view my previous nature of the wrongs I had done. I was able to understand the nature of my fears and resentments of people, places, and things. I came to understand myself as a person who was now willing to go to any length to get it, and to take certain steps to grow along spiritual lines; to thoroughly understand my part and intuitively know how to handle situations which used to baffle me; with progress, not perfection.

I have found this suggested method to be one that I could work with, then, and now, as I continue to take personal inventory. The Fourth Step is not so scary after all.

Concept Four

Throughout our Conference structure, we ought to maintain at all responsible levels a traditional "Right of Participation," taking care that each classification or group of our world servants shall be allowed a voting representation in reasonable proportion to the responsibility that each must discharge.

The principle of "Right of Participation" is built into the General Service Conference through the Conference Charter. Voting members include not only delegates, but also the trustees, and the directors and staff members of AA World Services (i.e., G.S.O.) and the AA Grapevine.

In the same way the boards of these two operating entities include not only trustees, but also nontrustee directors and paid administrators and staff members.

The chairperson of the General Service Board appoints nontrustee members to the standing committees in order to have the advantage of their expertise, and staff members serve as committee secretaries. "There are no 'superiors,' no 'inferiors,' and no 'advisers.'" New trustees on the General Service Board and new directors of the A.A.W.S. and Grapevine boards are sometimes surprised to see paid executives, staff members, and outside accountants attending the board meetings. They are invited because of A.A.'s "Right of Participation." Thus the trustees and directors "are put into direct communication with these workers who...feel wanted and needed. Although they do not vote, these workers may freely participate."

There is a spiritual reason for the "Right of Participation." All of us desire to belong. In A.A., no members are "second class." The "Right of Participation" therefore reinforces Tradition Two, that no member is placed in "ultimate authority" over another. We perform our service tasks better "when we are sure we belong-when our 'participation' assures us we are truly the 'trusted servants' described in Tradition Two."

I have found that when I work with others, my problems become smaller . . . I think that's because when I talk with my sponsees, and share my experience with what they are walking through, I have put their problems on the front burner, and my problems get put on the back burner --- then I talk with someone else, and in talking, their problems go on the front burner, so the previous sponsees have to go to the back burner . . . all of a sudden, my problems have NO burners, and it's amazing how they can just die away!

Progress not perfection." It's a statement not an excuse.

We were talking about 'restraint of tongue and pen' and someone read that they had read in the Grapevine that with the increase in texting that perhaps needs to be updated to add 'restraint of thumb and send'.

It's not that surprising that there is a power greater than me --- since I was taken down by a beverage.

Secretary Workshop May 4th 2:00 PM @ Central Office

Please set the date! We will be getting together with any AA members who have been a Secretary of a meeting, and most importantly anyone new to being a Secretary, to discuss the many issues that come up in this service commitment.

The Twelve Steps in Plain English

1. Alcohol will kill me.
2. There's a power that wants me to live.
3. Do I want to live or die? (if you want to die, stop here).
4. Write about how I got where I am.
5. Tell another person all about me (let god listen).
6. Want to change.
7. Ask a power greater than me to help me change.
8. Write down who I've hurt.
9. Fix what I can without hurting anyone else.
10. Accept that I'm human and will screw up. Fix it immediately.
11. Ask a power greater than me to show me how to live.
12. Keep doing 1 through 11 and pass it on.

At the Expense of Others

"I'm an alcoholic--and a drug addict."

"I have to say this--for me."

"I know this is a meeting of Alcoholics Anonymous but. . ."

I used to think I had to share about my drug use. After all, AA teaches us to be rigorously honest, doesn't it? And as a younger person in AA, I was different than a lot of the older, "pure" alcoholics, wasn't I? Nobody is going to tell me what to say. Nobody did, either. (A couple of old-timers took me aside after the meetings to talk about this, but I dismissed them.)

One night, I was talking in the parking lot after a meeting of my home group. As the people cleared out, I realized there were just two of us left--myself and a newcomer. He was in his sixties. We got to talking and he actually seemed to be listening to me! I really felt amazed that a man old enough to be my grandfather would listen to me about anything, and especially about AA.

The meeting that night had been on Step One and many people, including me, recalled their use of drugs (some in great detail). This man and I began to talk about the meeting and then he dropped a bombshell on me. He didn't think he qualified to be an alcoholic because he hadn't used any drugs! Here was a man who drank for more years than I have been alive (most of them, by his account, alcoholically), yet he didn't feel like he belonged in AA. And we were supposedly talking about alcoholism!

Well, I sputtered and stammered for a while and I finally convinced him that the only requirement for membership was a desire to stop drinking and that there were no requirements for drug use involved. Thank God he is still sober.

Later that night, I really began to question myself and the message I was carrying. Sure, it was important that I qualified and identified myself, but were the details worth it at the possible expense of others? I realized I should stick to alcohol and alcoholism in order to keep the door wide open, not make it more narrow. If even one person gets the wrong idea and feels they don't belong, that is one too many. Besides, I had been sober for a while and I knew what I was.

I guess I started to think just a little more about other people than I did about myself. So that's why some groups are so concerned about AA's singleness of purpose--some groups in my area even read a statement of singleness of purpose before their meetings. It isn't just to be tedious and nitpicky and to "bust chops," especially the chops of young people. It is so all alcoholics can feel that they belong once they get to AA.

What does Central Office Do for Me???

1. We carry the message to the still suffering alcoholic via telephone calls and 12-step work
2. Insure a steady supply of literature for our groups at an attractive price.
3. Provide a telephone contact service for AA meeting information and other information such as recovery places, other 12-step contact information, other Central Office numbers, etc.
4. Publish a monthly newsletter by and for our local fellowship with local events and articles by local AA members on the Steps, Traditions and Concepts.
5. Assist in forming new groups or help existing groups in carrying out our purpose
6. Help in any way to carry out the sole purpose of Alcoholics Anonymous.
7. Attempt to unify our efforts to achieve this purpose
