Step

Were entirely ready to have God remove all these defects of character.

Tradition

An A.A. group ought never endorse, finance, or lend the A.A. name to any related facility or outside enterprise, lest problems of money, property, and prestige divert us
from our primary purpose.

Concept

The Conference recognizes that the chief initiative and active responsibility in most world service matters should be exercised by the trustee members of the Conference acting as the General Service Board.

Step Six

Were entirely ready to have God remove all these defects of character.

In looking back to the inventory and considering the scope of my defects, even though I totally accepted that my Higher Power was, in fact, God, it seemed highly unlikely that even He could totally remove my character defects. It is the search for perfection that grants us the power to redo our lives on a continuing basis. For many, it is the "search" that quiets the past fears and gives us the serenity to turn our will and our lives over to a Higher Power that is now and always has been at our side, even when the drinking drove us to what seemed like a loss of all hope. The removal of only one small defect, and you will be amazed at how much they weigh, will be replaced by the three most powerful forces in the universe-joy, love and peace. And they weigh even less than a small feather. Welcome to the start of a marvelous new life. The Steps are a continuation of an ever evolving life, one that sees us making strides forward, but be always aware that as humans we can stumble. This in no way affects our progress. One of the many values of Step Six is in the knowledge and certainty that it can, as all Steps, be used over and over again-each time knowing that it will work. Some defects can and do sneak back in, usually in the guise of something "new". Personally I have to remind myself that I rode that horse before and trying again won't improve the ride. The defects will be removed. No matter how many times each of the Steps are used, they will not wear out, this Step in particular. There is a Power that guides our progress, one that is eternal and forever. May you find him now and all the days of your life..

Tradition Six

An A.A. group ought never endorse, finance or lend the A.A. name to any related facility or outside enterprise, lest problems of money, property and prestige divert us from our primary purpose.

Reading Tradition 6 tells me that A.A. is a stand-alone group. At no time does A.A. take a stand on issues other than "Helping the Alcoholic that still suffers." We in A.A. don't use our name to get into the spotlight of social issues or any other business. The reason I believe this is so important is because, in my experience, any time I have wandered off the A.A. beam, I drank again. Simply stated, we need to remain focused on what our primary purpose is! That being helping the alcoholic that still suffers.

Let's keep it simple. All of the traditions are (in my opinion) designed to keep things focused. Whether, long or short form of the traditions, never are we A.A.'s to stray away from ONE THING! We aren't money experts, we don't claim to be anything more than alcoholics. That being said, please stay true to the things that helped you and me..... Help another today! Who knows how that may brighten another's day!

May Puzzle Solution

Solution:

Concept 6

On behalf of A.A. as a whole, our General Service Conference has the principal responsibility for the maintenance of our world services, and it traditionally has the final decision respecting large matters of general policy and finance. But the Conference also recognized that the chief initiative and the active responsibility in most of these matters should be exercised primarily by the Trustee members of the Conference when they act among themselves as the General Service Board of Alcoholics Anonymous.

The Trustees of Alcoholics Anonymous are comprised of 21 men and women. Of those, 14 are members of Alcoholics Anonymous and seven are nonalcoholics. They are elected for their experiences in business and other professional needs in order to ensure that the mission of Alcoholics Anonymous is carried out throughout our service corporations noted below. Since the inception of the General Service Board (of which the Trustees act as individual members not as a group) the only changes have been how the Trustees are comprised, yet their duties have remained the same.

The Trustee members of the conference are held mainly responsible for all service activities including but not limited to The A.A. Grapevine, Inc and A. A. World Services Inc. They, of course, operate under the scrutiny and occasional direction of the Conference. However, our charters have been designed to give them a great deal of authority and responsibility in the absence of the Conference.

Much like the Steering Committee of an Alano Club is responsible for the upkeep of the building and paying of the bills, the Trustees have certain authority over various forms of service from Public Information to Literature to Finance & Budgeting.

As per the Conference Charter, they are given much freedom within all service activities. This is due to the rather large number of transactions involved in our world service operation. With the operation of the service corporations being such a large undertaking, it stands to reason that we would grant the Trustees a large amount of authority, as none but the Trustees could make such decisions to ensure that the message and growth of A.A. is not only sustained but increased.

As stated in the A.A. Service Manual, "From top to bottom, our whole service structure indeed resembles that of a large corporation. The A.A. groups are the stockholders; the Delegates are their representatives or proxies at the 'annual meeting'; our General Service Board Trustees are actually the directors of a 'holding company.' And this holding company, the General Service Board, actually owns and controls the 'subsidiaries' which carry on our active world services.

This very real analogy makes it even more clear that, just like any other board of directors, our Trustees must be given large powers if they are to effectively manage the principal world affairs of Alcoholics Anonymous."
